

To My Love,

It's so great to finally have an understanding of who you are. As time moves on, I become more in love with how you've evolved into the wonderful woman that stands before me today. The parts of you that no one else sees, those parts full of beauty, joy, vulnerability, passion - those are the parts that make you so special. You're awfully sweet when you're not so feisty. But even your feistiness is wonderful. It makes you the beautiful one-of-a-kind girl that I love. I believe in you and always will. I want you to know and always remember that.

Love you always,

B.
